TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Since meeting Mary Wald in 2002, I have worked with her on various projects including a video taping regarding Burma and Aung San Suu Kyi. In 2006 she oversaw the international press, logistics, and other matters for me and for my family, when I received the Man of Peace award from the Nobel Peace Prize Laureates at their Annual Summit in Rome.

More recently she set up and handled arrangements for me to narrate a BBC special on the work of the Nobel Peace Prize Laureates.

In 2005 Richard Branson and I asked Mary to consult on the initial stages of the formation of the Elders projects, with Nelson Mandela, Desmond Tutu and others. We found her input, her intimate knowledge of the Nobel Laureates, and her informed judgment invaluable in answering key questions before us at the time.

I have seen Mary work with the Nobel Laureates, Heads of State, celebrities and others on peace building and philanthropic efforts. She demonstrates competence, intelligence and creativity. I am very happy to recommend her.

Yours,
